*Designing & Facilitating Small Group
Class Activities*

Teaching
Learning Workshop

Please join Professors
Debbie Anderson (Biology),
Brad Ellis (Spanish), Reid Riggle (Education) and Larry Scheich (Chemistry) for a discussion of why and how they design and facilitate small group class activities. During the discussion, we will touch on areas such as:

This is the second in a series of workshops dedicated to promoting an exchange of ideas about teaching and learning.

- ◆ preventing group work from feeling like “busywork,”
- ◆ balancing group work with other kinds of learning activities,
- ◆ keeping students focused on the task,
- ◆ assessing learning outcomes of small group activities.
