

Although the Study Abroad Office staff welcomes questions and concerns, wouldn't it be nice to have another parent to talk with who has already gone through this experience? Perhaps you have questions about how your son or daughter will adapt to a new culture, how much spending money he or she should bring, or any number of other questions.

Our office would be happy to put you in touch with other parents who have graciously volunteered to answer questions you may have about the study abroad process as a parent. We have compiled contact information of parents based on the particular country and program that their student attended while abroad.

If you would like contact information please email studyabroad@snc.edu or call (920) 403-3433 stating which program your child will be attending and the Study Abroad Office will provide you with contact information of relevant past parents.
