

Sex and Gender Harassment/Discrimination

Resource card for faculty, staff, students and visitors

St. Norbert College is committed to supporting a learning and working environment that protects the sacred dignity of the human person and fosters the mutual respect necessary for communio to flourish.

If someone tells you they have experienced sexual misconduct ...

Misconduct includes sexual discrimination, sexual violence, sexual harassment, sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence or stalking.

What to do

1. Offer support. Listen to them and encourage them to seek help and counseling as soon as possible.
2. The person's health and safety should be a primary focus. If safety is an immediate concern, call 911.
3. Tear this card at the perforation. Keep this half of the card for your information, and present the other half to the person who experienced misconduct.
4. Report the incident in accordance with the procedures on the back of this card.
5. If there is any question about how to proceed after a conversation with someone who experienced misconduct, contact the SNC Title IX coordinator at titleix@snc.edu.
6. If you are a mandated reporter, you must report this incident.

TITLE IX

snc.edu/titleix

If you have experienced sexual misconduct ...

Misconduct includes sexual discrimination, sexual violence, sexual harassment, sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence or stalking.

What to do

You are encouraged to take the following actions:

- Contact the SNC Title IX coordinator
- Call an advocate
- Seek medical attention
- Seek counseling
- Contact parents, relatives or close friends for support
(See reverse for contact information for other resources.)

You don't have to choose a course of action immediately, but consider preserving evidence in case you choose to pursue an investigation. Possible evidence might be clothing, bedding, letters, photos, emails, texts, etc.

What to know

- You set the pace.
- There are many resources available to help you, both at SNC and in the community (see reverse).
- You have the right to choose who you speak to, which resources you use, what you say and when you say it.
- You get to decide if you want to file a formal complaint or only receive support from resources.
- It is your choice whether to name the person(s) involved.
- Your information will be kept private and only shared with those who "need to know." St. Norbert College wants to take care of you and keep you safe, and the college wants to make sure that others in the community are safe.
- SNC prohibits sexual misconduct, including sexual discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking.

- To identify and address any patterns, trends or systemic problems
- To keep our campus safe
- If you are a mandated reporter, you are required to report

Retaliation policy

It is a violation of SNC policy to retaliate against a student, faculty or staff member who reports sexual harassment or other gender-based sexual misconduct, or who is involved in the process as a party, witness or is part of the resolution process. Instances of retaliation should be reported to the Title IX coordinator or to Campus Safety.
